Aquarion Water Company Completes Acquisition of Norwich-based Water System

Acquisition of Pleasure Valley system adds 52nd Connecticut town to Aquarion’s service territory

BRIDGEPORT, CONN. – March 13, 2019 – Aquarion Water Company announced today that it has completed the acquisition of the Pleasure Valley water system in the City of Norwich, making the system the latest to join Aquarion’s rapidly expanding service area.

The Pleasure Valley system, formerly owned by Valleywood LLC, serves 209 people. With this acquisition, Aquarion now serves customers in 52 cities and towns in Connecticut, and eight additional towns in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

“We’re delighted that Pleasant Valley customers are joining many others across the state who count on Aquarion for safe, high-quality drinking water,” said Charles V. Firlotte, Aquarion’s President and CEO. “We look forward to providing them the same outstanding water and customer service that have made Aquarion Connecticut’s top-rated utility.”
