Centennial Watershed State Forest

Saugatuck & Aspetuck Trails

In 2002, a partnership between Aquarion Water Company, the Connecticut Department of Energy & Environmental Protection, and The Nature Conservancy was developed to conserve some 13,500 acres of land for water supply protection, open space preservation, promotion of a diverse and resilient forest and ecosystem, and public use consistent with these goals. The Conservation Land Committee (CLC), composed of representatives of the three organizations, manages the property.

Centennial Watershed State Forest was named to honor the 100th anniversary of the State Forest System in Connecticut. This State Forest is unique because it is the watershed of a public drinking water supply. As such, all uses of the property are subject to regulation by the Department of Public Health.

The Saugatuck and Aspetuck Trails provide access to over 40 miles of scenic trails through Easton, Weston, Redding, and Newtown. We ask that you abide by a few rules to help us safeguard the public water supply, minimize impact to the natural environment and make your experience a safe and enjoyable one. Your support will help us keep this and other watershed areas open for recreation and public education.
